DJ Masda cabaret Evan Baggs Fafi Abdel Nour
Giammarco Orsini Oriana PARAMIDA love on the rocks

Die in Barcelona lebende Oriana wurde stark von der lebendigen Musikszene ihrer Heimatstadt Montevideo in Uruguay inspiriert, wo sie sich weitgehend ohne große Social-Media-Präsenz einen Namen mit ihren fein vibrierenden House-Sets gemacht hat, die von späten Electro-Tracks durchzogen sind. DJ Masda ist ein erfahrener japanischer DJ, der seit Mitte der 90er Jahre aktiv und für sein extrem smoothes Mixing bekannt ist. In Tokio organisierte er jahrelang Underground-Dance-Partys, bevor er nach Berlin zog. Mit seinem Label Cabaret Recordings forciert er seit 15 Jahren einen deepen und basslastigen Minimal-House-Sound, unter anderem hat Evan Baggs dort vor neun Jahren seine EP Not A Story veröffentlicht. Alle drei DJs legen heute, neben anderen, bei PARAMIDAs Love On The Rocks Party in der Panorama Bar auf.

In ihren Sets bewegt sie sich zwischen verschiedenen Techno-Subgenres mit langem und manchmal aggressivem Mixing und schöpft ihre Kreativität aus mittlerweile über 20 Jahren DJ-Erfahrung – zu erleben bei der heutigen Klubnacht im Berghain. Seine musikalischen Wurzeln hat der DJ und Produzent Danny Daze in der B-Boy-Kultur Miami's, dessen Liebe zur Musik auf dem Miami Bass der 80er Jahre und dem Underground-Electro-Sound der Niederländer um Vieuxlex basiert. Die Bandbreite seiner Releases auf Labels wie Schematic, Moustache und seinem eigenen OMNIDISC reicht von experimentellem Electro, Electronica über Peaktime-Techno bis hin zu Musik für Fashionshows: sein Debütalbum :BLU:, das 2023 erschien, war ein überwältigender Soundtrack für eine audiovisuelle Planetarium-Show.

Thilo Schneider LADYMONIX

Please introduce yourself.
My name is Monica, but most of you know me as LADYMONIX. I'm a producer, DJ, label owner and lover of all things house music. I'm originally from Baltimore, moved around the US a bit and have landed in Detroit as of the last ten years.

What were the most important stages for you personally in finding your specific, disc-influenced house sound and growing as an internationally touring DJ?
I don't think I could choose just one or even two moments of life that helped guide me to my sound. But I think having all kinds of experiences in life from birth till present day have shaped me in the things I love and the sounds that move me. I certainly love disco - it's something that I was raised on in my household growing up. I think what defines my sound as a DJ now more than ever is something very much淳音, soulful and jazzy I love vocals, I love singers or even vocal synths over basslines and groove bass lines. I also think our tastes are continuously changing and evolving as we go through life. This is just where I am now - and maybe also for the last 20 years, LOL.

You grew up in Baltimore and have been living in Detroit since 2010, a city with a strong musical image and tradition in techno music. To what extent are you influenced by the old guard of Detroit producers? Who isn't influenced by Detroit and the accomplishments of the pioneers who came before us? I never take for granted the fact that I can run into any of these people at any point, have casual conversation and get to hear their stories of what the scene and house music certainly thrives here and I think it always has. Even though there are way more house nights than techno at the moment. There's a certain brand of house that comes out of the city that could only be from here - deep, gritty, funky - and I am certainly influenced by and love this style. But I do know my sound is much more a melting pot of my own personal experiences - I'm
